

---

Spring, 2006

---

Advanced Instructional Systems Design CI 603 (3 Cr.)

---

Thursdays
5:10 to 8:00 PM

---

Lagomarcino Hall
Room N047

---

---

Iowa State University
College of Human Sciences
Curriculum & Instruction

---

---

Instructor:
Dr. Ana-Paula Correia
acorreia@iastate.edu

---

This is an advanced course in instructional design and development. Focuses on the production and use of instructional technology for learning and teaching.

This class requires application of principles of analysis, design, development & production, evaluation, implementation, and project management. Theory and research in instructional technology provides the foundation for design decisions.

Students work in small groups to solve real or simulated instructional problems of substantial scope.

---

PREREQUISITES: CI 501 and CI 503