CASE STUDY: STEM CELL RESEARCH

Clark Wolf,  Director of Bioethics
Iowa State University
jwcwolf@iastate.edu

STEM CELL CASE STUDY: ASSIGNMENT FOR FRIDAY, FEB 2

Find your name in one of the groups below. In the Stem Cell Case Study linked from the syllabus, read (1) the background material, and (2) the material that is associated with your assigned group. Come to class on Friday prepared to discuss this material with other members of your group, and to put together a brief presentation representing the view of your assigned group.

GROUP 1: COALITION FOR THE ADVANCEMENT OF MEDICAL RESEARCH.  M. Adrian, N. Crawford, K. Hein, M. Moench, , E. Cesar, R. Sippy, S. Plambeck, N. Schnur, C. Melcher.

The case study is linked from the syllabus, but can also be accessed from this URL: http://www.public.iastate.edu/~jwcwolf/StemCellStudy/SCCaseStudy.html

You should come to class prepared to discuss the material you have been assigned with other members of your group, and to prepare a group statement expressing the view of the interest group to which you have been assigned. Whether you agree with this group or not, you should make the strongest case you can in favor of your group’s view.