

Personal gender theory paper (part B) rubric

Criteria	Possible	Earned	Comments
Briefly summarize your original gender theory paper	10
Describe your current theory of gender—how and why men and women are different. Explain how it differs from your original theory as well as what has not changed. (If your theory has not changed at all over the course of the class, explain why not.)	20
Overall organization, style, clarity, coherence & insight	10
Grammar, spelling, punctuation	5
Appearance of paper: printed on a laser-quality printer, double-spaced and stapled in the upper left-hand corner. Full justified text. No extra space between paragraphs.	5
Total	50		